Summary

- Product Designer: I have worked in large enterprise software, an in-house startup, and an agency, across the public and private sectors.
- Company growth: I deliver features and designs that grow the companies I work for. At Perforce, I strategically changed the onboarding to help the sales team make more sales. At DawsonAndrews, the project I worked on helped the company grow from a small to a medium-sized agency and take on another 10 employees.
- How I work: I am highly coachable, I like bringing people together, and I organise the team socials. I am usually the one in the meetings making jokes, bringing the energy and bringing a spark to the quiet days. Read more.

Experience

Product Designer September 2025 to Present
Perforce P4 Plan and P4 DAM: planning and digital asset management software for games and media.

- I lead product design for P4 DAM and P4 Plan, used by Electronic Arts, Pinewood Studios, Xbox Game Studios and Meta. The interfaces hold enterprise customer data. That work has helped win multiple new customers for Perforce.
- I own sections of the design system and the Claude skills for context building and generative AI workflows, served through an MCP server and a plugin that generates high-quality interfaces. Claude systems I built won Best Designed at the company AI hackathon in 2026.
- I used that system to rebuild P4 DAM onboarding around the studio manager who buys it. Sales got a persona-driven trial, opportunities went up, and the sales team said it made their job a lot easier.
- When front-end capacity was cut from six developers to two, I picked up production front-end with Claude Code. Feature output rose 25% above the pre-cut rate per quarter.

Product Designer July 2024 to July 2025
Budibase Open-source low-code for internal apps, automations and AI agents.

- I owned product design for Budibase as a whole. Customers self-host, including in air-gapped and other on-premise environments, so their data stays on their own infrastructure.
- I rebuilt the automations builder, with new filter systems and key workflows, shaped by a paid study with 25 users. Support complaints dropped from about ten at a time to none.
- That work became the foundation for Budibase's later AI product: agents and automations on a platform people already used.

Product Designer June 2021 to July 2024
DawsonAndrews Product design agency.

- I created and led design systems for CityFibre, GSMA, and SportsWork. Mentored at least 10 designers across client accounts. I took SportsWork from zero to one: brand, product, and the live site. It is now an independent, profitable company.
- Lead product designer for CityFibre (about 2,000 people). Designed the B2B portal and marketing website: 90% more people clicked to check fibre availability, and portal satisfaction doubled after a 40-person ISP workshop.
